DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: the species from which an election is to be made are the species of Figure 1, and the species of Figure 2. The species are independent or distinct because the two species taught; use separate and unrelated methods to meet the requirements of the generic claims.

The species of Figure 1 uses a digital based system to perform the method of the generic claims, while the species of Figure 2 uses an analog based system to perform the method of the generic claims. The species of Figure 1 attains a first energy level by applying a discrete DC voltage to a coil. The species of figure 2 attains a first energy level by applying an analog voltage to a coil with a first duty cycle. The duty cycle is determined by a bias applied to the inverting input of a comparator. The species of Figure 1 attains a second energy level by turning on a NAND gate after a period of time to supply the coil a current with a programmable duty cycle, thus decreasing the total current supplied to the coil. The species of Figure 2 attains a second energy level by changing the bias applied to the inverting input of the comparator, after a set period of time, to supply the coil with a second duty cycle containing a smaller energy level. Though both species meet the requirements of the generic claims, they do so using two distinct circuits.

2. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, Claims 27 & 28 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
